PRESS RELEASE

Leading insurance industry body welcomes SCOR SE as a new member

The Chief Financial Officers of Europe's leading insurers today announced that SCOR SE is the latest member company to join the European Insurance CFO Forum.

At its recent meeting, SCORs application for membership to the European Insurance CFO Forum was unanimously approved by the current member companies.

SCOR SE are IFRS reporters, headquartered in Paris and listed on the Paris Euronext. They are positioned in the top five re-insurers in Europe and globally across their Life and P&C business. Around 55% of SCORs premium income originates in Europe (with key operations in Paris, Cologne and Zurich), with the remainder of the business equally split across the US and Asia.

"SCOR is already actively engaged in influencing financial reporting debates in Europe and their addition to the European Insurance CFO Forum provides fresh views and further balance to the debates between the current primary insurer and re-insurer member companies." Dieter Wemmer the Chief Financial Officer of Zurich Financial Services and the Chairman of the European Insurance CFO Forum said today.

"SCOR's executive committee is committed to being an active member of the European Insurance CFO Forum. We believe that we have the resources, experience and expertise to actively participate in the Forum and its working groups and together more effectively influence the development of accounting standards and regulatory requirements being established for our industry." Paolo De Martin the Chief Financial Officer of SCOR SE said today.
